

Junction Elementary School Frequently Asked Questions

Will the school site have a full staff?

Junction Elementary will open as a K – 5. Junction Elementary will have a minimum of class per grade level. Depending on enrollment, Junction Elementary may have multiple classes for some grade levels.

What time does school or classes start?

Junction Elementary has yet to establish a “bell schedule”.

Who is the principal?

David Phillips, principal at Woodbridge Fundamental School will be overseeing Junction Elementary. A teacher in charge will be assigned to assist Mr. Phillips when he is off campus. The teacher in charge will have administrative duties until the school has enrollment to support a full time principal.

What are the Adventure Club options at Junction Elementary?

We are in contact with Roseville City Parks and Recreation department to establish this service at Junction.

When will Junction Elementary open?

The first day of school is August 26th, 2008. The school’s office will be open for business the week of August 4th, 2008.

What school will 6-8th graders attend?

Robert Cooley Middle School <http://www.rcsdk8.org/cooley.html>

How can I learn more about PTO/PTC, school mascot and school colors?

Mr. Phillips, overseeing principal, will arrange a parent information meeting before the end of the 2007-2008 school year to address Junction Elementary questions and concerns.

Where can we learn more about transportation to Junction Elementary?

Click on link <http://www.rcsdk8.org/junction.html> to download the Transportation Fee Guideline document.

Will there be full 'food services' at Junction Elementary?

Yes, there will be lunch services for all students. The costs & sample menus are located at the Food Services’ website <http://www.rcsdk8.org/foodserves.html>.

For further information please contact Heidi Eller at 771-1600 x 9114 or Ann Avelar at 771-1600 x 9106. You can also send us an email at junction@rcsdk8.org.

Roseville City Elementary School District will post changes as information is gathered. Please return often for the most current updates.